

State's first woman jury brought in this unique verdict: "Guilty but not too guilty."

Albuquerque Evening Herald

EDITORIAL SECTION

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1912.

There's no monotony in the life of a woman who marries a man to reform him.

PAGE TWO

ALBUQUERQUE SOCIETY HEARS FIRST TINKLE OF COMING CHRISTMAS BELLS; YULE TIDE JOLLITY MIXED WITH SCRAMBLE TO END SHOPPING

By SARAH HALL MOORE.
Telephone 1338 or 187-168.

An Engagement of Unusual Interest.

An engagement which is almost a wedding came to light this week. While no formal announcement has been made the many friends of Miss Lotta Huning, daughter of Mrs. Louis Huning, and Mrs. Frank C. Pooler are expecting a wedding next month. Miss Huning is and always has been one of the most popular of Albuquerque society girls. She possesses more than ordinary beauty and is just as charming as she is pretty. Lotta, who is often called Dolores, and one name is as pretty as another, has always made Los Lunas and Albuquerque her home. After her graduation from the university, Miss Huning spent a year abroad and is at present a teacher in the city schools. Her many friends will be pleased to know that after she is Mrs. Pooler she will make this city her home.

Mrs. Walter G. Hope was hostess to the Tuesday club this week at her home on West Copper avenue. Short papers on the lesson were given by Mrs. Louis Held, Mrs. George Johnson and Mrs. John Milne. Mrs. Louis Huning gave a talk on "Madonnas in Art." Current events were discussed by Mrs. Roy Stamm and the class study was directed by Mrs. J. H. Wroth.

The Bridge club is meeting with Mrs. Ada Bittner this afternoon and the ladies have postponed their meetings until after the holidays.

Thursday evening the Auction Bridge club held its usual bi-monthly meeting in the Woman's club building. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. W. W. Strong and Mrs. Frank Stortz.

Cottonwood Grove No. 2, Woodmen Circle, met Wednesday afternoon and elected the following officers: Past guardian, Mary Fountaine; guardian, Anna Fiskert; advisor, Sarah Westerfeld; clerk, Luisa Hoppe, banker, Emma Walling; attendant, Elizabeth Lehman; chaplain, Louise Gehring; inner sentinel, Ida Seth; managers, Matt House, Ida Loudon and Lizzie Stewart; musician, Bertha Seel; drill captain, Lucille Manning; doctors, W. G. Hope and J. F. Pearce.

At a meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps Tuesday afternoon an election of officers was held with the following results: President, Mrs. Josephine Stoenig; senior vice-president, Mrs. Mary F. Hall; junior vice-president, Mrs. Edna Albers; treasurer, Mrs. Harry G. Braun; conductor, Mrs. H. Seth; guard, Mrs. Margaret Seebahn.

The first Saturday in the new year the three lodges, John A. Logan Circle, the Woman's Relief Corps and the G. K. Warren Post No. 5, will hold their installations jointly in the old Odd Fellows' hall. As there is a large membership in each of these societies the committees are looking forward to a large crowd and a good time.

The Fraternal Brotherhood is planning a dance for next Monday night in Odd Fellows' Temple. Good music will be provided, so no one who enjoys the pleasant pastime presented by the foremost actors of modern times. It is based upon a fictitious incident in the life of a

The Santa Fe railway fire department is to give a masquerade ball December 31 at the armory. Dancing will not stop until 2 o'clock New Year's morning. Then prizes are to be awarded to persons wearing the best costumes. A feature of the ball will be a confetti battle at midnight. The confetti and horns are to be furnished free. The booster orchestra will furnish the music.

The Non-Sectarian Benevolent Society has reorganized and will continue its splendid work next year. A meeting was held last Monday evening, which was largely attended. Officers were elected and there was a discussion of various plans to care for the needy. Next Monday afternoon the ladies will meet in the Guild hall and something more definite will be outlined.

The officers elected were: President, Mrs. E. E. Coone; first vice president, Mrs. Roy McDonald; second vice president, Mrs. John Lee Clarke; secretary, Mrs. Robert R. Pollock; treasurer, Miss Brent.

The books show that the society expended on the average $1600 per annum, money collected through the Abant Charity Ball, city allows certain donations from schools, churches and from private individuals. A few years ago the society left help to a small legacy which they let accumulate and purchased a home, by which means they were able to assist the poor and needy.

An open meeting of the Parents' and Teachers' Co-operative association will be held in the assembly room of the Central high school building next Monday evening. Beside a very interesting program, a pleasant social hour is being planned and the ladies in charge will see that the parents are readily acquainted with the teachers of their children. All interested in the welfare of the public schools are urged to be present. The program is as follows:

Quartette (Lullaby, Carnaval).....

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Winchell, Mrs. Dan Webster, and Miss Mary Smith.

Additional Society on Page 5.

Macpherson Party Most Notable of Numerous Pleasant Society Events in Shopping Week

Despite Pre-Christmas Activity Albuquerque Folks Find Time for Social Diversion; Mr. and Mrs. Rothgerber of Denver Much Entertained; Other Parties of the Week.

Perhaps the most notable event of the society set of Albuquerque for the past week was the double party given by Mrs. Daniel Macpherson on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons. Of course the amusement was cards, for society seems to be very enthusiastic over the small bits of pasteboard this winter. Mrs. W. C. Keim, Mrs. B. H. Briggs, Mrs. Jake Weinman and Miss Lou Lee were the fortunate winners of pretty pieces of hand-painted china. Even though the party was so deeply absorbed in 500 the Christmas spirit was much in evidence. In fact everything in the way of decorations was suggestive of the near holiday.

Christmas bells dangled from the archways and chandeliers and numerous Norwegian pines were placed in the different rooms.

Mrs. Macpherson's hospitality was extended to Madame Frank Ackerman, C. H. Conner, E. J. Alger, P. G. Cornish, J. E. Smithers, Thomas Danahy, George Arnott, Otto Dieckman, Bert Baker, W. H. Barney, E. W. Dobson, Ada Bittner, J. Easterday, A. Bordens, E. B. Edgar, John Borradale, J. E. Saint, B. H. Briggs, J. A. Hubbs, C. E. Hodgin, W. B. Forbes, G. L. Brooks, Benjamin, B. W. D. Bryan, Hibbard Grunwald, Ivan Grunwald, W. W. Strong, Seymour Levinson, J. F. P. Miller, A. J. Maloy, O. N. Marron, O. A. Matson, E. A. Vaughn, Alpheus Wahs, Will Springer, M. Mandell, W. T. McCleight, Roy McDonald, J. T. McLaughlin, G. S. Landress, W. W. McClellan, Margaret Medler, Brown, Harry Weilier, D. Weinman, F. B. Schwertner, Frank Wilson, James Wroth, M. E. Wylder, Jacob Yrisarri, Neustadt, B. Held, Louis Held, Besse Jaffa, B. S. Rodey, W. J. Johnson, Frank Stortz, A. A. Keen, D. S. Rosenwald, E. Rosenwald, S. U. Rosenthal, Sawyer, L. G. Rice, A. S. Bronson, W. C. Keim, L. Kempenich, George Klock, Raymond Stamm, Roy Stamm, M. Stein, M. L. Stern, Simon Stern, Barthold, Spitz, Ed Spitz, Ira Rothgerber, W. H. Hahn, Summers Burkhardt, Campfield, Benson Newell, Mahel Stevens Hinoc, H. B. Henning, Reed, Canfield, D. H. Cars, Clark Carr, Charles White, Nancy Wick, M. O. Chudbourne, L. H. Chamberlin, Amado Chavez, John Lee Clarke, Walter Connell, J. B. Herndon, Fred B. Heyn, Walter G. Hope, Anna Huning, Frans Huning, Louis Huning, R. L. Hunt, J. N. Horner, Frank E. Toll, John Milne, A. E. Mann, Thomas Wilkerson, Dave Waller, Wallace Hessenden, A. B. Strook, Robert Pollock, J. A. Reddy, Riffle, Robert Putney, Allen Peck, Frank Owen, Solomon Luna, George Partridge, J. H. O'Reilly, W. P. McCall, B. H. Kent, Ross Merritt, Max Nordhaus, Frank De Vergne, Misses Josephine Parsons, Brent, Lee Lou Lee.

It surely is fortunate for society that Mr. and Mrs. Ira Rothgerber are visiting in this city. Socially speaking everything is moribund, but when such a popular couple comes to our city every one makes an effort to entertain them in some way, even if it is the busiest season of the year. On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Jake Weinman gave a sumptuous dinner as a courtesy to the Rothgerbers. When Mrs. Weinman gives an affair, no matter how small, every one comes of Mrs. Weinman home after a nearly four month's visit to the Pacific coast. While away she visited Brooks only planned the party a couple of days ago.

Mrs. H. W. D. Bryan will entertain a small party at candle light Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Rothgerber.

The ladies of the T. U. B. society are preparing to finish the old year and initiate the new year with a ball, the proceeds of which will go to the B'nai Brith society to beautify the cemetery. Although there are two or three ladies at the head of this affair, all the rest of them are working earnestly for the good cause. Even though you do purchase a ticket and do not attend the dance, do not feel that your money is wasted.

Christmas bells dangled from the archways and chandeliers and numerous Norwegian pines were placed in the different rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. White, who are guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Nachbauer, old friends whom she had not seen for fourteen years. The party was quite a success with music, dancing and songs.

An enlivening dance was given at the Woman's club last night by the boarders at Mrs. L. J. Hummel's.

Miss Mary McElroy will entertain all the participants of the university concert on Friday evening, the 20th of December.

Mrs. Alfred Goodrich was a delightful hostess to fifteen of her friends Wednesday afternoon at her home on South Second street. Primarily, it was a thimbble party—but an entertaining surprise was given the ladies by having a real fortune teller appear and tell each lady what the future held in store for her. In the dining room a pretty color scheme of pink was carried out, with immense white and red and black.

Last evening Mrs. Frank E. Tall entertained with a dinner party and this evening Mrs. C. E. Lowther will be hostess to a small party, comprising Mr. and Mrs. White.

A pleasant surprise party met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Weinman, 826 Mountain road, Sunday evening, being in the way of a well-bout of ribbons on each corner of the tables, and dainty carnations of the same hue were used as a center piece. A delicious supper was served in the late afternoon and it was never evening before the ladies waded their way homeward.

Thursday was Mr. and Mrs. Sol Weidler's twenty-third wedding anniversary, and while they did not celebrate in a formal way, still all of their friends called and extended congratulations.

Tri-Alpha Fraternity Hosts at Gay Festivity.

It is a set custom of the Tri Alpha Fraternity of the university to give at least one ball during the year. Last evening was the selected date for the first one and Masonic Temple was the place. From the time the date is named for this swell function every one is wondering whether they will be sufficiently urged to attend or not. But the party showed that it number at least were invited, as there was a large crowd. At 8 o'clock the fraternity boys had everything in readiness for their guests and from the decorations they evidently did their very best. Of course, the only colors used were red and black, the Tri Alpha colors. In the ballroom the only available space for decorations was the ceiling, and that was a network of red and black streamers. The hobby looked pretty with Indian rings, palms and cozy corners with college pillows banked everywhere.

The programs were unique; the folder was a stiff black board with the Tri Alpha emblem in gold embossed on the front and the names of the members of the fraternity on the back. The red part of the colors was on the inside for the dancing program. Punch was served during the evening.

The active members of the fraternity are J. W. Miller, Ira J. Boldt, L. H. Harkness, Clifford Nichols, L. B. Luckie, L. T. Latree, W. H. Ober, Frederick Luthy, Paul Dieckman, Frank Ringland, Leo Murphy, Lewis Heselden, Joe McCanna, H. J. Hill.

The members living in the city are Charles Lemke, Bruno Dieckman, Thomas Higgins, Thomas Keicher, Thomas Danahy, James Wroth, Edward Crawford, Ernest Van Cleve.

The invitation list included Dr. and Mrs. Boyd, Frank and Mrs. Arrell, Prof. and Mrs. Clark, Prof. and Mrs. Hoberty, Dean and Mrs. Hodges, Dr. and Mrs. Silber, Mr. and Mrs. Hutchison, Mr. and Mrs. Stephenia Mr. and Mrs. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Denning, Dr. and Mrs. P. G. Cornish, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. D. Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lov, Mr. and Mrs. Lemke, Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Luthy, Mr. and Mrs. Beckman, Dr. and Mrs. Aiger, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Matson, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Boldt, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Gladding, Mr. and Mrs. Don Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Healdridge, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stamm, Dr. and Mrs. Collier, Misses Suster, Parsons, Thomas, Hickey, Dean, Lillian Heselden, Jean Hubbard, Grace Hornaday, Amelia McFie, Irene Boldt, Ruby Reha, Mary McElroy, Lottie Lencke, Bernice Heselden, Marie Christian, Carol Shipley, Lorene Asquith, Mamie Kelley, Julia Keicher, Mabel Finch, Mildred Fox, Sue Dobson, Helen Hope, Myrl Hope, Katherine Hayes, Cleo Kelly, Herchhoff, Gertrude Walker, Charlotte Pratt, Rogers, Lawrence, Grimner, Brown, Dorothy McMillen, Helen James, Treasure Hartman, Kathryn Grimner, Margaret Cartwright, Pearl Tompkins, Pauline Sewell, Mary Bright, Jean Arnot, Edith Walker, Mary Cooper, Laura Cartwright, Doris Nichols, Ollie Hinds, Evelyn Everitt, Eleanor Vaughan, Alice Bixler, Alice Stern, Thompson, Eunice McClellan, Corson, Meers, Donald Allott, Chester Lee, Tom Naylon, J. Pease, Bob Clegg, George Walker, Hugh Carlyle, Bert Hunter, Kenneth Daicomb, Thornton Bright, Clyde Kelly, Fred Callahan, Stanley Soder, D. B. Lane, Robert Sewell, Frank Gouin, F. Werning, Jack La Prak, S. Bateman, J. J. Bedford, W. J. Higgins, M. Higgins, Ed Ross, Minor O'Reilly, Leslie Cooper, Ralph Keicher, McDowell, L. C. Bennett, Will McMillen, Mardon, Lloyd Sturges, Gordon Goss, Seligman, Leslie Culom, Ringland, Ed. Harris, Ray McCanna, Grover Divine, Will White, Wanner, Anspach and Coburn Cook.

Christmas Suggestions

We Keep the Express Man Busy...

After two weeks of early Christmas shopping, during which we have sent out and laid away hundreds of packages containing the choicest Jewelry Gifts, our stock is still as fresh and new and full as ever—because we keep the express man busy filling up the gaps as fast as they are made.

We are striving to please you in Quality, Style and Prices—for we want your approval more than your money.

Our store is just full of those things that please, and we are DEE-LIGHTED to show them to you.

W. O. HARRIS,

The Daylight Jewelry Store

THIRD AND CENTRAL

Macpherson, Who Stars in "David Garrick" at Elks' Theater December 18.

